Storm slams subdivision, marina

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
and EDGAR PEREZ
Damage estimates ranged up to $5 million on destruction in Hancock County this week after a line of severe weather Monday night brought at least two massive tornados slamming to earth here.

INJURED IN HOME—Eugene Aronstein pets Smoke who was trapped until 9:00 a.m. Tuesday after tornado the night before. Aronstein and his dog were in the dwelling which was destroyed and he suffered cuts on both legs and shoulder injury. He said his dog was locked in tight in the debris for over 12 hours. As the tornado passed the Garden Isle resident he ended up with a refrigerator, stove and wall on top of him. He was taken by a friend to Hancock General Hospital for emergency treatment and released. (Staff photo—Edgar Perez)

Miraculously, only five or six persons sustained relatively minor injuries as at least 23 homes were totally destroyed in Garden Isles subdivision; another 30 residences in that area were heavily damaged; the Bay Marina was reduced to rubble; and a quarter to a half-million dollars in damages were inflicted on Gulfview Elementary School.

Officials and residents directly involved in the disaster all say it was a miracle no one was killed.

Robert Boudin, Hancock County Civil Defense director, reported Wednesday a $3.5-4 million damages to homes along, excluding utilities and heavily damaged boats at the Bay Marina, and vehicles.

Heaviest hit was the Bay Marina and adjoining Garden Isles Subdivision off Washington Road, three miles from Bay St. Louis.

Boudin said 50 residences in the area were either destroyed or heavily damaged.

Residences involved in the tornados included 33 permanent and 20 secondary homes.

Joseph Byals Sr. family were in their mobile home at Bay Marina the section they were in was completely destroyed.

Mr. Byals, his wife, Catherine, 15 year old son Keith and six year old daughter Christine were all taken to Hancock General Hospital for emergency treatment and released.

"I flew 30 feet in the air when the section of the trailer we were in just blew apart," said Keith Byals.

"I was looking out the kitchen window when the top blew off and the whole trailer acted like a springboard—I flew through the air," he stated.

"My husband crawled on top of the baby, and then Keith came crawling over toward us," Mrs. Byals reported.

"All four of us just laid there on the ground until it passed," she said.

The family managed to get their truck through the debris and go to Hancock General, she added.

Eugene Aronstein, Garden Isles resident, was also treated and released from Hancock General.

Aronstein said, "I had just finished my bath and the lights went out. I was in the process of getting a kerosene lamp to light and was near the steps." His residence was on pilings.

"The door blew in and I heard a big explosion, and suddenly had a refrigerator, stove and wall on me. I was lucky as I had not as yet struck the match to light the lamp," the survivor

County officials ask for emergency money

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors drafted a resolution Tuesday asking Gov. William Winter to declare the county a disaster area and to release emergency funds for tornado damage repair.

The board also passed a resolution calling for state flash flood victim assistance money.

Due to heavy rains and extensive tornado damage from Monday evening's storm the board met in emergency session noon Tuesday.

County Civil Defense Director Robert Boudin told the board, "About $250,000 damage was sustained at Gulfview Elementary School in Lakeshore and about $1.25 million damage was done at the Bay Marina."

By Wednesday morning, however, Boudin had revised the damage estimates upwards to $5 million in Hancock County as a result of Monday's tornados.

Board Attorney Walter Cox stated at the Tuesday emergency session, "The board has requested the governor's office to declare Hancock County a disaster area and that emergency relief be given to those affected."

District Five Supervisor James Travica reported, "Federal Emergency Management Agency people are making estimates of the damage now. We are trying to see about some kind of emergency help."

"Everyone who had damage should report it to the Civil Defense office," Travica added.

Boudin also reported, "We have flood damage up in the Kiln and Crane Creek areas."

"We always have problems getting federal funds because the dollar amount is never enough. We use to be able to run disaster applications right to the governor's office, but you can't do this now," Boudin explained.

"Bruce Bowman in the federal office says we can count on him," the Civil Defense director said.

District Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner suggested, "I think we ought to appoint a five-man committee to assess storm damage."

Boudin replied, "That's Assessor-Tax Collector Edward Murtagh's job according to a disaster plan which has already been approved by the board."

District One Supervisor Bert Courge said, "There were graduation

Cool heads prevailed as tornado threatened to destroy gym

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
and EDGAR PEREZ
Quick action by several persons prevented panic Monday night at gymnasium Eighth grade Graduation Exercises of Gulfview School in Lakeshore as a large tornado ripped the school 100 feet away.

"We had cool heads to prevail, folks like Jimmy Ladner, Walter Damians, Curtis Thaxton and others, who did a fine job in not letting the group of 500 or so panic as the tornado raked the school facilities."

Superintendent of Education Billy Sils reported.

The superintendent added, "We started the graduation exercises at 7:15 p.m. instead of 7:30 as originally planned because of the bad weather."

"All of the diplomas were given out and we were in the process of making special awards when the walls of the gym started to shake, the roof bounced up and down and then the lights went out," Sils said.

"We are fortunate no one was even injured, because of the flying glass. Automobiles were completely destroyed and there is heavy damage to our school facility. Fences are gone, we were lucky," Sils allowed.

The superintendent expressed appreciation to everyone helping out at William Haddock, principal of Gulfview requests all students to report to school at their regular time on Friday, May 23 to return all school books and pickup report cards.

All eighth grade graduates are asked to return their graduation gowns also on Friday morning.

School buses will run at the regular time for the Gulfview students who should be at the school for approximately one hour Friday, according to Billy Sils, Superintendent.

Gulfview. The sheriff's department, Hancock Jail trustees, District One Supervisor Burt Courge, Hancock Supervisors, School Board members, John Mykolyk, architect; school administration, teachers and parents were all given praises by Sils.

Sils stated that the Hancock County Board of Supervisors had an emergency meeting at the civil defense headquarters Tuesday, with Federal personnel.

The School board called an emergency meeting this morning at Gulfview and declared the facility an emergency situation. The School board authorized me to have repairs made to protect the property and equipment by

Tornados knock out power to 100 homes

By ELLIS CUEVAS and EDGAR PEREZ

Coast Electric Power Association facilities sustained $60,000-$100,000 damages in Garden Isle Subdivision from Monday night's tornado.

Bob Occhi, manager of operations, stated Wednesday, "We had approximately 100 customers without power after the tornado struck, but there were only 45 customers to whom we were unable to resume power because of structural damages to the others."

Henry Thomas, manager of Coast Electric, commented Tuesday,

"Anyone having structural damages to their residences should come to the Bay St. Louis office and sign a release before we can turn their power on. We strongly urge all residents having damage to have a qualified electrician check their wiring before having the power restored."

Those residences requiring extensive repairs are eligible for temporary poles while construction is underway.

Harris Ladner, construction superintendent, said all available equipment and personnel are working in the subdivision to restore the power lines destroyed by the tornado.

Thomas reported the utility company had several areas damaged in Harrison County but none as bad as in the Bay Marina and Garden Isle areas.

By late Wednesday, Occhi said, his company would be finished the clean-up job as they had already restored all the main lines in the area by Wednesday morning.

"There are several lines we did not restore as yet on dead end streets where the homes have been completely destroyed. We will replace them when the customers request us to do so."

Occhi stated, "We had people come in from our system in Harrison County, Perkinston and Poplarville offices to enable us to restore services. Some of our crews worked all night Monday and all day Tuesday."

Coast Electric had several other areas hit in Hancock county, specifically the Gulfview School facility and also some slight damages in Bayville Park.

Mississippi Power Company had several outages due to the tornados, but nothing serious, according to a spokesman.

HGH maintains accreditation

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock General Hospital Administrator Harry Gilmore said Monday afternoon that his hospital has not lost accreditation—dispelling recent rumors to the contrary.

"We've got accreditation for one year," Gilmore stated.

"We were surveyed by the Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation in January. This is a voluntary survey to see whether your hospital is operating with the same standards as other hospitals in the U.S. You have to request the Commission to come and make an inspection," Gilmore explained.

"We have appealed that decision though, because we feel we should have gotten accredited for two years," Gilmore reported.

The local hospital administrator explained that normally accreditation is granted for two years, but this was not given to the hospital due to "paperwork" deficiencies cited by the Commission.

"Where you usually lose out is on paperwork," Gilmore added.

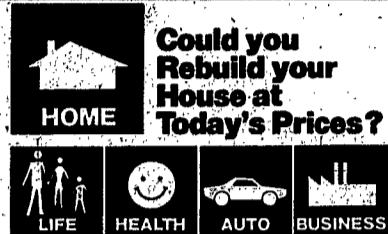

"We are waiting for results of an appeal we made based on new evidence we have provided and should receive those results in two-three weeks," Gilmore said.

"The Commission cited studies that they claim we didn't have and they didn't like the way our meeting minutes were typed. They wanted meetings broken into subcategories," Gilmore explained.

"They are not saying we have a bad hospital. It would be horrifying if they found some things below standard in patient care," the hospital administrator said.

"The inspection team is made up of a doctor, nurse, laboratory technician and hospital administrator. They go over some 3,000 different items in one day," Gilmore reported.

Real Estate

BY GAIL PRESSMAN, GRI

HOME BUYER PSYCHOLOGY

Buyers buy homes by chagrin in the area of comparison. The average comparative pricing. He buyer is no slouch. He'll know what similar homes shop a particular neighborhood and home-type. He'll rarely buy the first one he visits. It's too big an investment to be nonchalant. He will then compare prices against comparison value time. It makes sense to work he'll quickly throw out any obviously overpriced homes. Who If the buyer really likes knows-you may be planning one of these overpriced homes, he may make a counter offer at a lower price-closer to its true value. But history shows that he'll probably make his offer for one already realistically valued.

exercises going on at Gulfview. Were the monitors used to notify the school or was their some negligence in the weather reports?

Ed Friloux replied, "The monitors were activated and in addition to that we had people located all around the county looking out for bad weather conditions."

Boudin added, "All of the schools aren't complying with our emergency plans. All we can do is give a warning."

"We've already surveyed the schools and let the administrators know what to do in the event of a tornado," Boudin explained.

Courage said, "If that tornado would have been on the ground it would have been bad at Gulfview. The County School Board should have implemented a procedure for severe weather-years ago."

Gex suggested, "I think we should inform the schools that are not complying with a severe storm plan."

Boudin said, "We do this every year."

District Four Supervisor Sam Perniclaro stated, "If that tornado would have been on the ground we would have had people blown all over the place at Gulfview."

Gex suggested, "I don't think we should attempt to tell Bobby what he should do."

"You (Boudin) knew what you had to do at the deep he in Waveland, you had to go back and take action on your own in order to prevent another accident," Gex said.

Perniclaro asked Boudin, "It seems like we're getting more and more tornados every year. Could we get some sort of shelters built?"

Boudin replied, "It's not necessary. If those kids get in the proper position in the halls they're safe. Studies have shown this."

Friloux added, "Also, unless you have the windows open you can't release the drop in pressure from a tornado. It takes one pound per square inch of pressure to knock down a brick wall—with a tornado you'll have three-four pounds per square inch."

Courage reported, "I understand a lot of people panicked at Gulfview and tried to run outside, but the deputies who were there managed to keep the people inside the gym."

Gex stated, "I don't understand why we can't get a copy of the report from Don Murray (who employed by County Engineer Lawrence Seal). We had a photographer take pictures. We need to implement this now."

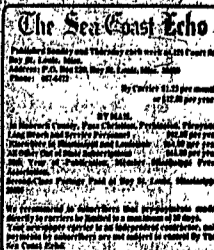

"What's happened is we've lost time in filing the emergency funds. We've discussed the problem in getting the proper documents before," Gex added.

Correction

A recent Sea Coast Echo article inadvertently reported Alvin Ladner as a Bay St. Louis patrolman assisting at the scene of a Friday automobile wreck at the corner of US-90 and Dement Avenue.

The article should have listed Patrolman Alvin Favre of the Bay St. Louis Police Department assisting at the accident scene.

The Sea Coast Echo apologizes for the error.

ITEMS RECOVERED—Several of the items stolen from Walter Seawrights Shoreline Park home and Schuffert Pontiac-Buick-GMC in Bay St. Louis. A combined investigation by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and the Bay St. Louis Police Department recovered items stolen in two robberies Saturday and led to the arrest of three men and a boy. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A joint investigation by the Bay St. Louis Police Department and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department led to the arrest of two Hancock County men and a 16-year old boy for robbing a Shoreline Park home and a Bay St. Louis car dealership Saturday.

Ken Rawley, 23, of New Orleans, who was arrested earlier this week for allegedly firing a gun at a Bay St. Louis woman and for the robbery at Walter Seawright's home in Shoreline Park, was also charged with the theft of several items from Schuffert Pontiac-Buick-GMC.

Rawley, is now in Hancock County Jail under $30,000 bond.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson, said Wednesday afternoon, "Rawley is also wanted in California for a parole violation."

Charles R. Strong Jr., 19, of 305 Ballantine St., Bay St. Louis and Charles Jordan Jr., 19, of Shoreline Park were both charged with burglary and grand larceny and jailed under $2,500 bond.

"A 16 year old boy was also charged with larceny in connection with the case and released to the custody of the Hancock County Youth Court," Peterson said.

"We arrested Strong and Jordan Saturday for the Seawright burglary and released them on $1,500 bond each. Then, they were picked up again Monday for breaking into several cars at Schuffert Pontiac. An additional $1,000 bond was placed on each man,"

Peterson reported.

"We recovered all the items stolen from the Seawright home and Schuffert Pontiac in a wooded area in Shoreline Park," the sheriff said.

Peterson said car stereos, hub caps, batteries, a console and various tools were stolen from cars at the dealership.

"There was also a lot of damage to cars. It's estimated that $2,000-$3,000 damage was done to several cars," Peterson added.

Peterson said both cases were investigated by himself, Sheriff's Investigator Alvin Ladner and Bay Police Investigator Jim Mallin.

Bits 'n pieces

In our interviews of many residents who weathered the tornados, it has been a very long time since we heard so many say all they could do was pray.

It was a miracle no one was killed in Hancock County, and anyone checking over the damaged homes, we feel would agree with us.

The damages caused by the tornado in some areas was more severe than Hurricane Camille destructions caused by winds.

Millions of dollars of damage has been done in our county, but we are very thankful there were not any fatalities, and apparently no serious injuries.

In relation to the tornado, we feel the people who did their part in keeping the graduation audience calm at Gulfview should all be commended.

If they would have gone running out of the gym, many could have been crushed in a stampede.

The destruction of the many parked automobiles near the school buildings, mostly caused by flying roofing shows what could have happened to anyone who would have gone outside.

We were not at the graduation, but had several names mentioned to us, people who knew what they were talking about, and we are sure glad they were present.

You did your duty, thanks to you, we had no one even injured at Gulfview.

We wish to extend our congratulations to H. (Bully) Zengarlion on his selection as Port and Harbor commissioner for the City of Bay St. Louis.

We have known Mr. Zengarlion more years than we would like to mention and feel that he will do a splendid job for Bay St. Louis and Hancock County.

Many folks have worked tirelessly for many years to help develop something we have been lacking for many years in Hancock County, and that is jobs. Their efforts are now paying off with the location of industries making jobs available.

Mayor Larry Bennett and the Bay Council should be commended on making Mr. Zengarlion their selection.

We would like to suggest your attendance at the Open House Saturday at the Waveland American Legion Post in recognition of American Legion Day.

The open house will be from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and everyone is invited.

Conditions in the world today warrant our recognizing those who fought for the freedoms we enjoy but which are now threatened.

The American Legion is one of the organizations stressing patriotism and Americanism in a time when more emphasis should be given these important beliefs because of world conditions.

We hope to see you there.

MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL - THE STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

NOW FOR LOCAL SUPPORT

The Mississippi Legislature took a step forward in the cause of better education this past session when it made public school kindergartens available to every school district.

The value of a kindergarten program is recognized nationally as providing the fullest possible development of the child through early learning situations involving manipulation of objects, sensory stimulation, language development, and interaction with people. Educators agree that since about 17 percent of growth takes place between ages four and six that the kindergarten experience could have far-reaching consequences on a child's learning pattern.

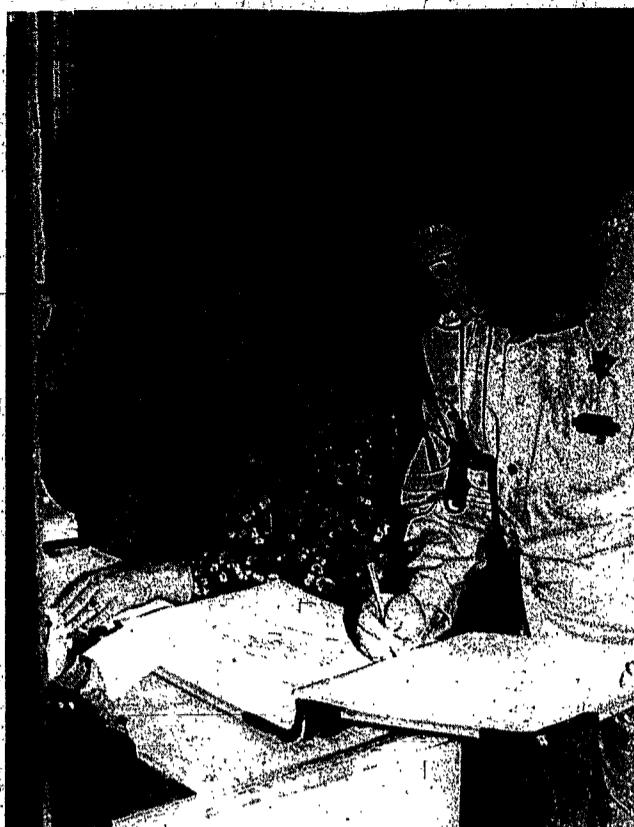

Mississippians should consider the option the Legislature has provided. In a state where the general achievement level of school children is lower than the national average, the expense incurred by the establishment of public kindergartens could be repaid in an improved educational system.

The Mississippi Economic Council supports the creation of public kindergartens and recognizes that a well-educated citizenry is a giant step forward in efforts to move the state off the bottom of the economic ladder.

The establishment of kindergartens in local school districts is an avenue well worth exploring, and the MEC encourages concerned parents to study the benefits and make their conclusions known to their public officials.

As a sage once said, "If you think education is expensive, try ignorance."

BUSY AFTER TORNADO-Hancock County dispatchers Mary Biel, left, Lillian Roberts, center, Gloria Tartavouille all were busy with telephone calls and communications with sheriff's personnel out in the field after tornado destruction Monday night. One person normally handles the dispatcher's job but it was necessary to call in two off-duty personnel to handle the traffic.

Allergies Plague 30 Million in U.S.

The word allergy is only 60 years old, but the conditions it describes are as old as mankind.

An allergy is a sensitivity some people develop to substances ordinarily harmless to other people. The offending substances are known as allergens. They do their damage when inhaled, swallowed, touched or injected.

It is estimated that more than 31 million people in the United States suffer from some form of allergic illness. Most common are skin rashes, hay fever, stuffy nose, asthma, hives and digestive disturbances. Victims of respiratory food and skin allergies often are prevented from leading normal lives. As medical drugs become more potent in curing disease, they also are more likely to cause allergic reactions in some individuals. Insect stings, especially by bees, wasps, hornets and yellow jackets, can be fatal to those who are allergic.

Allergens range through a wide spectrum of materials. Pollens from weeds, grasses, trees and plants; dusts in the home and in industry; mold spores; animal skin or hair; feathers; cosmetics; hair lotions, insecticide sprays; kapok; chemicals; tobacco.

cause reactions in some sensitive individuals. And some few persons are allergic to common medications such as aspirin; laxatives; sedatives; sleeping pills; tranquilizers.

The doctor's help often is needed in finding the offending substance. It should be avoided when possible. If it cannot be avoided, such as pollen in the air, the person must learn to live within its limitations. Certain measures relieve symptoms but do not cure the allergy. Antihistamines provide relief from mild allergies. Other drugs also are used. Epinephrine has been widely used in treating asthma for more than 50 years.

The allergy victim who follows his physician's advice often can expect favorable results, the American Medical Association points out. Medical treatment is supplemented by an understanding of his own case, awareness of sensitivities, and alertness to ways of avoiding offending substances.

Washington Report

By REP. TRENT LOTT
5th District, Mississippi

By REP. TRENT LOTT
5th District, Mississippi

You don't get a lot of good news out of Washington these days so when there is some I like to share it with you.

Last week, the good news was that the pump price of gasoline did NOT go up 10 cents a gallon as President Carter had wanted. A federal judge stepped in and ruled that President Carter exceeded his authority by trying to impose a so-called gasoline conservation fee without approval of the Congress. The White House is appealing.

The proposed fee, of course, was one of President Carter's answers to an inflation rate of approximately 18 percent. It was supposed to raise an estimated $10.3 billion in new revenues each year.

But my opposition to the proposal from the beginning was based on the fact that it was highly inflationary. I could not support a plan like this one which amounted to a punitive tax on a product people have to buy.

We in Mississippi would have been especially hard hit if the price of gasoline rose by 10 cents a gallon. There is little mass transit in the towns in our state; there is substantial commuting to work and there is a need for individual access to private cars. Luckily for Mississippians and others across the country, the U.S. District Court judge sidetracked the proposal. A fier reveal, the judge decided the way the fee was designed was to be its undoing.

The judge ruled, in effect, that the fee was basically unfair because it required refiners to pass the levy on to consumers only in the form of higher gasoline prices. It left heating fuel prices untouched.

There were also reservations about the impact the fee would have on oil imports, which are currently running about 6.2 million barrels per day. President Carter had estimated that the fee would reduce U.S. oil imports by 100,000 barrels per day by the end of a year.

A Senate committee and a House subcommittee have voted their opposition to the tax, and I have cosponsored a discharge petition to get a resolution of disapproval to the House floor for a vote.

Regardless of the outcome of President Carter's appeal, this particular fee would have done nothing to fight inflation and would create nothing but more hardship on Americans who have to use gasoline.

SPECIAL REPORT: A Balanced Budget?

Recently, the Senate and House have been embroiled in marathon floor debates over the 1981 budget, with both chambers agreeing to balance the federal budget for the first time in 12 years.

As one who has been working for a more fiscally responsible federal government since I have been in Congress, I am pleased to report that sentiment has changed drastically on Capitol Hill the past several months. A majority of Congress is now committed to the principle of a balanced budget, and more and more members are finally realizing it is in our economic best interests to live within our means.

Unfortunately, there are sharp differences of opinion over how to balance the budget.

One school of thought, which I oppose, is to continue high levels of funding for government spending programs, and to raise taxes to bring in new revenue to balance the budget. Examples of these efforts are the windfall profits tax and the oil import fee, which is expected to raise the price of gasoline at the pump by about 10 cents per gallon. Experts estimate that new revenues will amount to about $100 billion dollars next year.

With these new dollars coming into the federal treasury, the total take in taxes next year is expected to be more than $600 billion dollars.

In my opinion, a much better way of balancing the budget is by reducing wasteful and unnecessary federal spending. This not only would help bring the budget in balance, but it would also alleviate one of the major causes of inflation. There is no doubt that reckless federal spending in recent years has contributed in a substantial way to the 20 percent inflation we are now suffering.

Those of us in the U.S. Senate who adhere to this philosophy of fiscal responsibility made an intensive effort to win over our colleagues in the battle of the budget. However, the majority in control, with the backing of the administration, chose the route of higher taxes.

And, one of the favorite new taxes of the administration's revenue sharing program is now in trouble - the oil import fee which is expected to add about 10 cents per gallon to the price of gasoline. It has been held by one court to be an unconstitutional tax, and there is growing support in Congress for legislative action to repeal the tax. With inflation such a major economic problem, it just doesn't make sense to be imposing new taxes or fees which further burden the consumer. There is a limit to what people can pay, and many believe they have already been pushed beyond that limit.

While most responsible Americans do not mind paying their fair share of taxes for worthwhile or necessary programs, there is a growing disenchantment over the continued waste and inefficiency in many government programs and agencies.

I don't think any program or federal agency ought to be immune from very careful scrutiny to see where reductions could be made without doing away with essential services.

I will continue working toward the objective of bringing the budget in balance in a manner which will cool inflation and restore the buying power of the dollar, while protecting necessary and essential programs and functions of our national government.

reported. Aronstein, an employee at Tulane University building services said he had cuts and bruises on both of his legs and some shoulder injuries, as he could not raise his left arm Tuesday.

His pet dog Smoke given to him by J.C. Schuber was buried under the debris until Tuesday about 9 a.m. when he was rescued, as his home was destroyed at the same location a second time.

During hurricane Camille in 1969, Aronstein sustained reported heavy damages and rebuilt.

William Rooney, a resident of 13th Street in Shoreline Park, said he saw the tornado roaring before it hit Garden Isles.

"It was high and I heard on the radio we were in a tornado alert and saw it go down in the vicinity of the Marina and Garden Isles," Rooney commented.

The Alvin Hogan family rode out the tornado in their stairwell as the storm destroyed their residence.

Mrs. Hogan recalled, "As we sat in the stairwell the force was pulling us and it felt like it was going on for an eternity. We were worried about a neighborhood lady who lived by herself."

"I was in a bedroom and a second later it was all gone. Camille was bad, but never have I experienced anything like this," Mrs. Hogan said.

Mr. Hogan comment us, "I do not know how we are still alive," as he gathered up personal items in the neighborhood.

Dale Hendricks of Ida Ala. talked of his experiences during the tornado. He was helping Paul Wade remodel his step daughter Helen Chester's home in Garden Isle.

Hendricks said, "We came down Saturday to work. I saw it coming 30 minutes before it got here. The others were watching TV and I told them and we watched through the window. As we saw the tornado near the house we all ran downstairs and set up against the utility room."

"The truck in the street was alongside that car, the wind picked it up and it was on top of the street was alongside that car, the wind picked it up and it was on top of the car and then it landed 50 feet away," the Alabama resident reported.

The house was completely destroyed by the severe winds and the three were almost sucked up by the force.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douger Marina Managers lost two automobiles, two mobile homes, one pickup truck, 30 spot cruiser and motorcycle.

"We were lucky we were not at home when the storm passed, as you can see we lost everything. We were at a power squadron meeting," Mrs. Douger added.

She and her husband with the aid of friends Tuesday were searching through the rubble trying to find items savagable as their two mobile homes were completely gone.

Mrs. Minnie Geiger was the neighbor the Hogan's were concerned about and her home was destroyed.

Mrs. Geiger stated, "I was sitting in the only place in the house where I could have survived, as every place else I would have been hit with flying glass and debris. It got real dark and I heard a roar like freight trains. I sat on the top step and had my pet dog on my lap as the house destroyed around me."

Mrs. Geiger said they had owned the place 16 years and used it as a second home. Her husband died recently and she reported she would stay with a niece until she decided what she would do with her destroyed home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gejausky weathered the storm in their mobile home with it receiving some damage.

Mrs. Gejausky said as the storm hit, "The trailer started to move and her husband tried to keep the door closed and the furniture was moving all over."

Raymond Ourso and his wife spent the night in New Orleans for a doctor's appointment or they would have been at their permanent residence which suffered heavy damage in Garden Isle.

They lost their roof and fence. Ornamental iron-work was destroyed all about the residence.

Mr. and Mrs. L.A. Page moved from Iowa in November to the subdivision and they reported no damages to the main house but had sail boat and out structure damages.

Mr. Page allowed, "The house is very strong and we were in the basement when the storm hit. We have solar panels for hot water on the roof and they even seem to be o.k."

"I have never been in anything like this, it sounded like a freight train coming through and I feel lucky," the new resident stated.

As we were interviewing Mr. and Mrs. Page, they pointed to a house completely destroyed that was only recently constructed and never lived in. There was a trailer over turned across the bayou that had some people in who were injured, according to the Page's.

Mrs. Lester Almeras and daughter commented on how they lost the roof and the water just poured into their residence.

Mrs. Almeras remembered, "The wind was blowing harder than I ever recalled."

They opened some windows as her child had just turned in a tornado report as a school lesson.

Boudin, the Civil Defense director, added that the paper work has been done and the reports requesting the areas hit by the tornadoes be declared a disaster area are on their way to Jackson for the governor's approval, then to Washington.

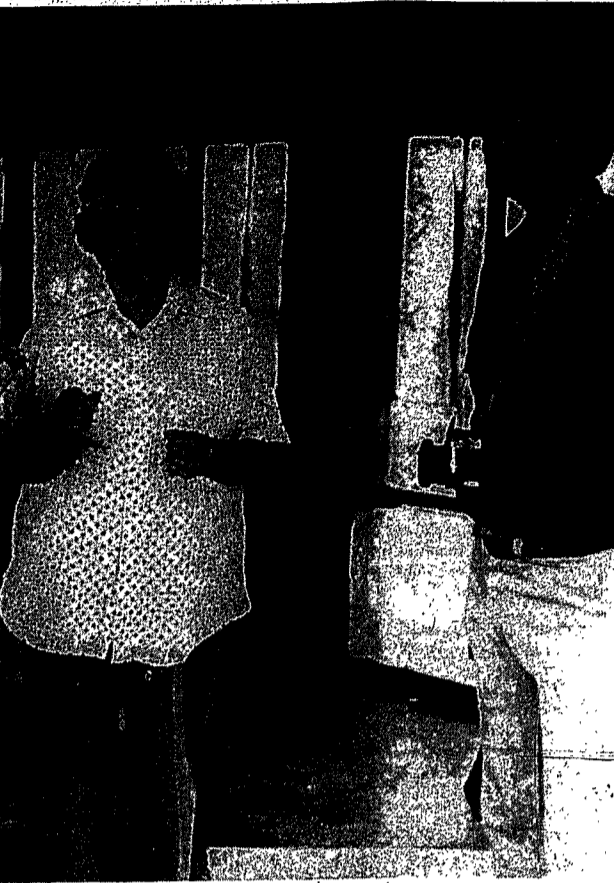

The CD director reminded the residents suffering damage that, "The American Red Cross can handle emergency food and shelter on a short term basis and are set up at his headquarters. If anyone needs any help, please contact me at the Valena C. Jones complex, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis."

Lower Bay Road residents had some slight damage as the twister set down in one area before Gulfview School and then after it's destruction of the facility. Harvey Warden said the twister came between the trailer he lives in and the house in which his mother resides.

"I lost my horse and pig pens and the kids had a tent in the yard that landed in the trees. I lost about eight pine trees but had to round up my hog Tuesday morning. My wife was at Gulfview for the graduation when the storm hit," Warden commented.

Boudin felt many people were injured and that they treated themselves for cuts and bruises because he talked to a lot more than the five who were hurt and reported to the hospital.

Everyone seemed pleased with the cooperation of all agencies involved in the recovery operations.

Bay police nab bikers

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County Sheriff's Department deputies and Waveland Police were called in as Bay St. Louis police arrested two men out of a group of some eight motorcyclists at the corner of US-90 and Second Street late Saturday night.

The arrests followed a chase by Bay police down US-90's eastbound lanes. One Bay patrolman at the scene said, "They were speeding in and out of traffic down the highway."

Most of the motorcyclists in the group were believed to be from Kiln.

Bay Police Chief Douglas Williams said, "Tommy Larson of Kiln was charged with driving while intoxicated, no helmet, no tag, failure to yield and carrying a concealed weapon."

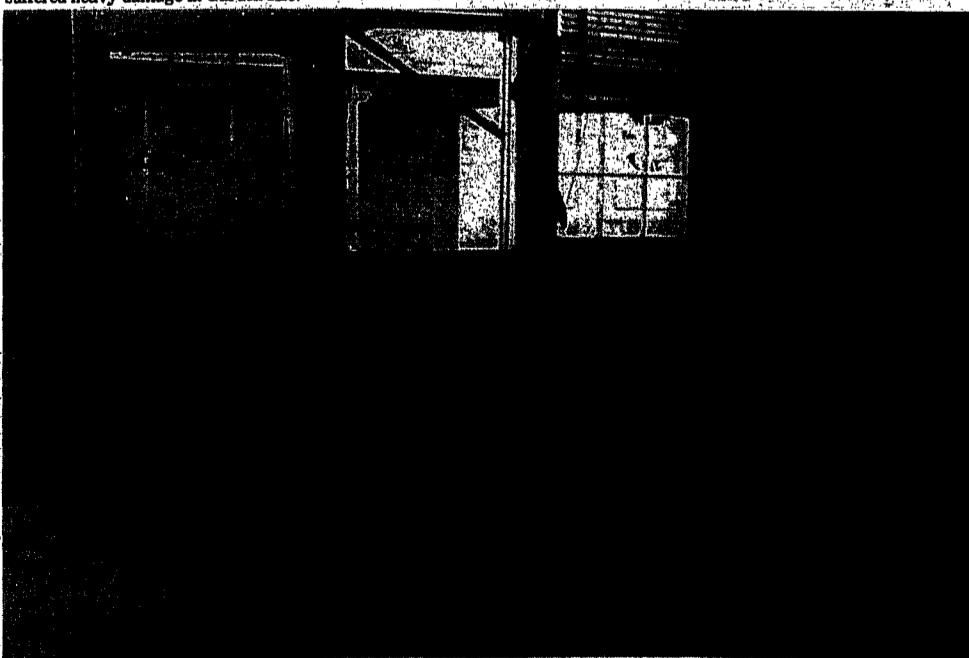

"James Russel of Sildell was charged with driving while intoxicated and speeding," Williams reported.

An unidentified motorcyclist claimed a Bay policeman ran into his motorcycle, but Williams reports, "No scratches were found on the bike or police car said to have been involved."

Entitled "Elvis: Images and Fancies," the volume published in conjunction with the University Press of Mississippi, is the second in the "Southern Quarterly Series," a joint effort to bring special issues of the quarterly to the public in book form.

"Elvis" has essays from all over the world analyzing the phenomenon of the Tupelo native. USM professor Jac Tharpe served as special editor and will also edit an upcoming issue devoted to Mississippi writer Walker Percy, due out in May.

The first in the series was "Sense of Place: Mississippi," which deals with the forces which shape a person's attachment to a particular area. Already in its second printing, the volume contains the proceedings of an award-winning symposium held on the USM campus.

Project, subdivision protest poor drainage

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The Bay St. Louis City Council held one of its shortest regular meetings in months Tuesday night, finishing by 8:35 p.m.

Drainage problems were brought to the council by Mrs. R.J. Wimbish, Bay St. Louis Housing Authority director.

Ms. Wimbish reported, "We are a catch basin, we were not before the developer headed water towards us. We have 15 homes with water lapping at their doors."

The housing authority project Ms. Wimbish is referring to involves the facility located on the Old Spanish Trail across from the Bay Fire Station.

Fred Wagner, councilman, stated, "When the project was constructed a pond was dug to take care of the water for the area. Because of the sandy area the water would not cause any problems. Now other properties are draining water into the pond and it is not large enough to handle all of it."

Mayor Larry Bennett said he did not know until last Saturday that the developer was using the authority's drainage system. He has been out of his office this week, and he is going to talk to the developer as soon as possible.

Apparently the developer being referred to is the one doing the construction on Union Street between the Old Spanish Trail and US-90.

Ms. Wimbish asked, "All we want is the City to clean our ditches if they are going to use them. The ditches kept us dry previously and now they look like city ditches in size."

Mayor Bennett said he only had four men in that department now, but he would get them in the area as soon as possible.

Charles Hirstius, spokesman for the Spanish Acres Subdivision plagued with drainage problems, disagreed with a statement made by Councilman Wagner about refrigerators and ice boxes in the drainage system of the subdivision.

Wagner was one of a group selected by the Council to look into the drainage problems at Spanish Acres.

Hirstius said that those items were not placed there by the residents and only maybe a little trash was by some of the people.

Mayor Bennett sent two men Saturday a week ago to aid in cleaning one of the drainage ditches. We cleaned from the Old Spanish Trail to past Andre Court," Hirstius allowed.

Then the spokesman added, "Last Saturday I checked the ditch and it was already covered with some type of water plants in one week."

Mention was made of the knee deep pot holes in Spanish Acres where the asphalt had buckled and been removed. Work is reportedly progressing on a second exit for the area so repairs on several hundred feet of sewer damage can be repaired.

Wagner reported he had contacted the owners of the vacant lots at the end of the subdivision about the possibility of a playground.

The Councilman reported the owners would not be interested unless the City would do substantial improvements in the area and he had discussed this with the Council and they felt they were unable to at this time.

Hirstius said, "I am glad to see that something is being done. We need permanent types of drainage for the entire city."

I have some quotes on costs to the city for the pump which was out on Delores

Street from December until a few weeks ago costing enough to buy one or maybe two more pumps."

He was referring to rental of pumps and equipment on an emergency basis until old pumps were repaired.

Council President Pete Benvenuti commented in a reply to Hirstius about how monies could be secured for making permanent improvements in the City. A lot of things can be done, but it would take a bond issue and the raising of taxes," the president said.

Hirstius spokesman was told it would take a petition of 20 of the registered voters in order for a bond issue to go before the community.

It was also mentioned that specific amounts would have to be mentioned and what projects.

Indications were given that the Spanish Acres group would look further into the bond issues needed for permanent city improvements.

Hirstius complained that the two papers print partial facts, saying, "If people want to know what's going on they have to come here (council meeting), they rely on the papers and they don't get all the facts, only partial."

City Attorney Joseph Gex reported he had checked with the Attorney General and found out that the City could charge a land owner over $1000 for clean-up after being declared a public nuisance, but could only collect $1,000 a year.

A public hearing has been set for June 17 for the Webb Street Dump reportedly owned by Don White and is adjacent to Spanish Acres.

Two other city properties were also authorized to be advertised as public nuisances at the same time by the Council.

Council authorized the re-advertising for the windmill project since they only received a bid for the equipment.

A bid from Turan-Lane Chevrolet was accepted for the purchase of a pickup for the street department upon recommendation of Billy Johnston, superintendent.

Mayor Bennett read over a letter received by his office from Robert Mosely, assistant traffic control and safety engineer of the Mississippi Highway Department.

Mosely's letter mentioned a study was taken by his department on May 7-8 on US-90 in Bay St. Louis.

The letter stated, "...A speed study was made of the section of US 90 in question on May 7 and May 8 and it revealed that the 85th percentile speeds ranged from 48 MPH to 52 MPH..."

"...Taking all of these factors into consideration, we regret that we will be unable to recommend to the State Highway Commission the requested reduction in the legal speed on US 90 in Bay St. Louis..."

Council requested Gex to contact Highway Commissioner Bob Joiner to see if the letter was a reply to council's last action requesting a speed limit reduction or from previous requests.

Gex also reported making contact with George Klenpeter of Burk and Associates Engineers, and was told they were not interested in a third party being involved in the 500 block of Main Street project has been under discussion for over a year.

The project has reportedly completed by the contractor but the council has not accepted the work as yet.

Gex was advised to set up a meeting with the engineer and as many counclimen would meet with them as possible. All council members seemed eager to meet with the firm.

City Clerk Kelly McQueen reported there would be mayor's revenue sharing hearings on June 10, one at 10 a.m. and the other at 7 p.m.

"For two years we have had revenue sharing hearings and they have been advertised and the only people to show up and make requests are the Senior Citizens," McQueen commented.

Joe Brown, III, Brown Engineers, Inc., reported the 1979 Small Cities Project was being advertised and seven contractors have secured plans and specifications.

The easements should be secured by the end of the month from indications given at the meeting.

James Chinche reported he had spoken to the Highway Department in Jackson Tuesday and that they have given their right-of-way approval for the water extension line north of the highway. It was reported the permit was good for only one year.

Local shrimping areas close today

BY RICH ADAMS

Shrimp season may not open until late June or mid-July this year due to heavy rains which have driven underdeveloped shrimp out of nursery areas and into the Mississippi Sound, according to Dr. Fred Deegan, Saltwater Fisheries Division chief of the Bureau of Marine Resources.

Deegan said the area between the Intercoastal Waterway and the barrier islands is closed to shrimpers effective 7 a.m. today due to the low count of shrimp.

"Speculatively, this is not going to be a great season for shrimpers," Deegan said Tuesday.

"Because of the recent heavy rains, in-shore salinities have been depressed, forcing numerous underdeveloped, juvenile shrimp out of the nursery area into the Mississippi Sound," Deegan continued.

"For this reason we are closing the area between the Intercoastal Waterway and barrier islands to shrimpers effective 7 a.m. May 22, 1980," he explained.

"There has been so much fresh water with the rains that the shrimp are smaller and fewer than usual," he continued.

"There is a minimum of 68 count for legal size. We make predictions using the weather as a base, and typically the shrimp will reach the desired size by the second week in June," Deegan said.

"The Gulf Coast Research Laboratory made a count of shrimp Monday and found the average size to be 50 to 55 millimeters long, which is very small for this time of year," Deegan continued.

"Shrimp usually grow at a rate of one to one-and-a-half millimeter per day," he added.

placing temporary roofing repairs. "The school board instructed me to contact the State Department of Education and ask for forgiveness of the last four days of this school year," Sills added.

Thursday was to be the last day of school for students with Friday as a final work day for teachers at Gulfview.

The school board authorized Sills to:

- Hire security personnel to patrol the school grounds.
- Have Stenson Fence Company to clean up old fence and replace with new one.
- Hire personnel to clean up the school grounds and make sure they have proper liability insurance coverage.
- Write a policy in regards to any function at the schools of the system to be canceled by the superintendent if bad weather threatens the area.

Have John Mykolyk, architect to draw up plans and specifications for emergency work on the Gulfview facility.

Sills reports the school board recessed to be available for other necessary meetings.

School board president Woodrow Ladner, in attendance at the graduation said, "We heard a lot of noise, sounded like a freight train and all the people in the gym became excited and some started hollering."

Ladner added, "Jimmy Ladner and others quickly tried to calm the crowd and tried to get them out as soon as the storm passed in an orderly fashion."

"I was at Hancock North Central when Camille destroyed the school, this was very fast compared to the big hurricane. I was more afraid of this than the hurricane," Ladner commented.

School board members Oris Ladner said he was delayed in getting to the gym because of the stormy weather.

"I was a little late in getting to Gulfview, all I could see were cars covered with debris. We were lucky the gym held up and wasn't destroyed. It was really bad but could have been worse," Oris Ladner stated.

Louis Ladner, school board member, stated he missed the graduation, the first since he has been in office, due to a prior commitment, adding "I am thankful no one was hurt at the facility."

Johnny Banks commented Tuesday that he was working at the time of the graduation and allowed, "I am very happy no one was injured or killed. We can replace the buildings but not someone's life."

The fifth school board member Manuel Cuevas was reported to be offshore at his job for the graduation.

William Haddock, principal at Gulfview, recalled, "I asked coach Thaxton to open the doors, he did and the rains came in. The building would have probably exploded if we had not done this as the tornado passed. It broke several windows in the gym and pushed one of the exhaust fans out somehow or other. I am glad everyone was safe."

"We just finished the restoration of the old school building in December and felt the facility was now in good shape. I hope everything can be repaired and ready to go by the opening of school in the fall."

Tammy Ladner, a 5th grade student in the gym Monday night, stated, "It sounded like a loud freight train and I could see the insulation falling from the ceiling of the gymnasium."

A sixth grade student, Renette Davis, said she was talking to a friend in the bleachers and really didn't know what was happening until it was over with.

Walter Dardar, a commercial fisherman residing on Pleasure Street near Bayou Caddy, reports he saw the tornado when it sat down on Gulfview.

"I live about a mile from the school, I saw what looked like three small tornadoes which did not come down. Then I saw a large one that looked like it settled down on the school," Dardar said Monday night.

Dardar said he lost part of his roof in a tornado when living in Spanish Acres Subdivision in 1971, recalling nine houses were destroyed all the way to the slab.

"I was scared when I saw the big storm. I had four foot of water in my home in Chalmette, La. for Betsy in 1965 and also had my home again completely destroyed by Camille in Clermont Harbor. I could see the storm forming over the railroad track and come down on the school."

Dardar said his house is high on pilings and he could see the tornado drop down behind the trees. He did not report any damage to his home.

Damage estimates on the Gulfview facility are running between $200,000 and $250,000 but figures are still being compiled by the architect, Sills said Wednesday.

Mayor's son not injured

By WAYNE DUCOMBER:
Brian Brignac, teenage stepson of Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett, was apparently uninjured after being knocked off his bicycle in front of his Citizen Street home by an automobile in a hit-and-run incident Monday afternoon.

Rosemund S. Ward, 25, of Pass Christian was arrested by Bay St. Louis police minutes after the incident on US-90 near Seminary Drive.

Ward was charged with reckless driving, excessive speeding, no driver's license, causing damage, driving under the influence, hit and run and possession of marijuana.

Wayne Brown, 22, also of Pass Christian, was a passenger in the Ward vehicle and was charged with possession of marijuana.

Bay Police Chief Douglas Williams said Tuesday afternoon, "We received the hit and run complaint report about 8:30 p.m. Monday from Mrs. Larry Bennett."

"Her son was on Citizen Street in front of their home when Ward's car went out of control and hit Mayor Bennett's son Brian."

Bay police arrested Ward and Brown on US-90, based on a description of the vehicle, about 10 minutes after receiving the complaint.

A police search of the vehicle found a small amount of marijuana (what appeared to be three marijuana roaches) in the Ward car.

"We had to charge both of them with possession of marijuana because neither of them would admit possession," Williams added.

Patrolmen Gordon Campbell and Alton Benoit responded to the complaint.

Patrolmen Larry Ladner and Dan Plaisance apprehended the two Pass Christian men on US-90.

Season starts June 1

Begin hurricane preparations now

Bob, David, Frederic—hurricanes that will be remembered for a long time for their devastation and the suffering they caused. By this time next year the names Allen, Charlie and Danielle could replace them in people's minds. But let's hope not.

The 1980 hurricane season is just around the corner officially lasting from June 1 to November 30. During that six-month period if history is a valid prediction, approximately eight tropical storms will develop in the Atlantic Ocean, the Caribbean Sea and the Gulf of Mexico. Of these, three will reach hurricane intensity.

The first storms of the season traditionally form in the Gulf of Mexico in the early summer. Few of them build into hurricanes.

During the late summer and early fall larger storms will form and grow farther out in the Atlantic, and usually cause the most damage.

With storm season a mere two months away, now is the time for preventive action. To quote an old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and certainly there are many people who wish they had been more prepared or better informed prior to Hurricane Bob and Frederic.

The biggest obstacles to hurricane preparedness are those people who think the Coast will be safe another ten years: Camille in 1969, Frederic in 1979, and the next in 1989. Right? Wrong!

The worst storm is the one that comes when you're unprepared. Now is the time of the year for people to make plans for the possibility of a major storm hitting our coast. Simple preparations can be made now while the weather is good and before the heat and humidity of summer set. Here are a few things everyone can do to get an edge on nature:

1. Know the height of your land. When the storm comes, torrential rains come with it. Knowing how high your house sits can help when the water starts to rise so you know when to leave for higher ground;

2. Know your local radio stations, AM and FM, so they can be turned to during the storm. Also be sure to have an extra supply of batteries (portable radios are a must and two or more bands are preferred);

3. Prepare glass windows and doors. All glass surfaces should be covered with wood to prevent breakage and possible injury. Thin plywood can be cut to fit now and stored, then put in place before the storm hits. If this is not feasible, keep extra rolls of masking tape on hand to tape up windows

4. Learn safe routes, inland and where your shelter areas are. If you determine the need to evacuate, make the decision early enough to get clear of the area before the storm gets too close. Plan a route now and verify with officials such as the highway patrol that the route is safe and open. If you are assigned to a shelter, know where it is and how to get to it quickly; and

5. One of the best things to do is plan a hurricane kit now while supplies are plentiful.

Include flashlights, portable radio, extra batteries for both, candles, matches or lighter, blankets, first aid kit, water containers, canned food, hammer and nails. These along with any personal items such as baby food that can be added later make up a basic kit which can be valuable during storm or afterwards. Camp stoves or outdoor grills with charcoal are also handy items.

These are just five things you can do months ahead of time. Be prepared, if the need arises. The 53rd Weather

Reconnaissance Squadron "Hurricane Hunters" Public Affairs Office at Keesler Air Force Base is available for presentations to local organizations concerning hurricanes and their destruction. To schedule one of these presentations, contact the base Public Affairs Office at 377-2254.

Spinach, that most maligned of vegetables, is in truth a favorite of gourmet cooks 'round the world, and adds bright color, appeal to the menu.

I like spinach cooked in the barest bit of water and seasonings, with Philadelphia cream cheese stirred in just before serving, or cooked with a roll of Jalapeno or garlic cheese to make an appetizer that you would vow had oysters in it, or under poached eggs, etc.

Here's a spinach dish we've been enjoying since Bertha Blake brought the recipe home from a sortie she and spouse Paul made to their former home in Kansas City. Here's:

SPINACH SALAD SOUFFLE
1/4 PACKAGE FROZEN CHOPPED SPINACH (10 oz.)
1 envelope unflavored gelatin

1/2 cup cold water
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup fine-chopped celery
1 cup cold water
1/4 cup lemon juice
1-3 cup mayonnaise
1 cup cream-style cottage cheese, drained (save the "creamy-creamy" for sauce or whatever some other time)

Cook the spinach according to package directions, drain very thoroughly, and set aside to cool.

Meanwhile, in a small saucepan soften the gelatin in 1/2 cup of water. Heat, stirring, and as the gelatin dissolves add the sugar and salt, a dash of pepper, and the remaining water and the lemon juice. Mix well.

Place the mayonnaise in small mixing bowl, and gradually stir in the gelatin mixture, then chill until it begins to set. Beat until light and fluffy, then fold in the cooked spinach, cottage cheese and celery.

Turn into an oiled mold and chill until firm, about four or five hours, or overnight, before unmolding. Garnish with pimientos, celery curls or whatever suits your fancy. This is delicious, too, in individual molds or ring molds, with the center filled with cherry tomatoes or salad of some sort, or just curly parsley with chopped egg atop.

Home economist offers summer fashion hints

BY SHIRLEY C. ROBINSON
Extension Home Economist
WOMEN'S SUMMER
APPAREL

Functional dressing is here. Summer fashions for women are casual. Sporty attire fits varying lifestyles.

Cotton leads in soft terry, sheer voile, seersucker, twill, damask, gaberdine, poplin, sailcloth, and sturdy duck. Linen is another favorite. Silk adds elegance to pants and blouses.

A feminine mood is achieved with the dress. Uncluttered lines, touches of lace at collars and cuffs, tiny bells or elasticized waists are the simple details.

Cotton voile or cotton eyelet creations may boast tiny prints, tucking and full skirts for soft looks.

Pants and shorts are looser for easy wearing. Ankle-skimming to thigh-baring lengths prevail. Mid-calf, Bermudas and harem pants are included.

String ties and elastic show up in place of zippers, buttons and snaps. Baggy jeans are favorites in white cotton and in colors. Prints, piping, lace, pockets and pleating are other details.

The "locker room" craze features terry and velour sweatshirt knits. Styles include jackets, jogging pants and hooded cardigans. The apparel works for sports activities or for casual wear.

Skirts are fuller. This is evident in the "swing suit"—fluid and comfortable with softly shaped jackets newly proportioned with short sleeves.

Prints enjoy a comeback, especially in dresses, skirts and pants. Colors are more subdued pale blue, yellow, soft lavender.

Medium gray is the fresh neutral and watermelon is a novel shade. Black and white are still the favorite contrasts. Livelier yellow, turquoise, violet, and red lend pizzazz.

Luster also brightens the season, with glazed, polished, coated and lacquered surfaces. Shiny satens, shimmering satins, chintz and iridescent fabrics are popular.

Wearable, casual and easy-care best describe warm weather fashions. From the soft dress to baggy pants and jogging attire, leisure wear is the forecast.

MHP establishes internal affairs

An Internal Affairs Office has been created in the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol, Public Safety Commissioner Sidney B. Berry announced today.

General Berry said that the new office would operate directly under the Chief of Patrol, Donald Butler.

Investigators assigned to the newly created office "will investigate, assess and report on allegations, complaints, grievances, and other sensitive matters concerning members of the Department of Public Safety," Berry said. "These investigators will be guided in their work by law, interest of the Department, thoroughness, objectivity, and sensitivity, impartially, discretion, and fairness," the commissioner said.

The investigators assigned to Internal Affairs will not initiate cases, Berry said, but will conduct investigations as directed by the Patrol Chief.

Commissioner Berry said, "Investigations of allegations will be conducted more quickly and professionally than in the past and without diverting criminal investigators from their normal investigative duties.

The commissioner said that faster, more professional investigations "will increase protection to individuals falsely or unjustly accused of wrongdoing and increase the effectiveness of the Department in identifying and dealing with unprofessional conduct, practices, and standards."

Bay schools seek early handicapped detection

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District is participating in an ongoing statewide effort to identify, locate, and evaluate children under the age of twenty-one who are physically, mentally, communicatively and/or emotionally handicapped.

Early identification of children in need of special educational experiences is most important to each child. Furthermore, this information will be used to help determine present and future program needs as progress is made toward the goal of providing a free appropriate public education to all handicapped children, according to superintendent J.D. McCullough.

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District will provide free appropriate public educational programming for handicapped children ages six through twenty by September 1, 1980, and O through twenty-one by the year 2000, he explained.

Information which could identify an individual child will be maintained by this school district and will be provided to other agencies only in accord with the Family Rights and Privacy Act.

As a parent, you are guaranteed the right to inspect any such information about your child and to challenge its accuracy. Access to this information is forbidden to any unauthorized person without your informed consent, McCullough added.

If you have any questions regarding the collection and maintenance about your child, please contact Mrs. Brenda Scaffidi by calling 467-1021, or by writing to her at the following address: Bay Senior High School, Blue Meadow Road, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

The Board of Supervisors took up the matter of issuance of the Industrial Development Revenue Bonds, Series 1980, of Hancock County, Mississippi, in the principal amount not to exceed Four Million Dollars ($4,000,000). After discussion of this subject, Supervisor Perdicaro offered and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

RESOLUTION DECLARING THE INTENTION OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, TO ENTER UPON AN INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT PROJECT AND TO ISSUE INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT REVENUE BONDS IN THE PRINCIPAL AMOUNT NOT TO EXCEED FOUR MILLION DOLLARS ($4,000,000) FOR SUCH PURPOSE, AND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF NOTICE OF SUCH INTENTION.

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, (the "Governing Body"), acting for and on behalf of said County (the "Issuer"), does hereby find, determine and adjudge as follows:

1. The Issuer is a municipality as defined in Chapter 147, General Laws of Mississippi, Regular Session 1960, as amended, appearing as Title 57, Chapter 3 of the Mississippi Code of 1972 (the "Act").

2. On April 21, 1980, this Governing Body, as authorized by the Act, adopted a resolution making application to the Mississippi Board of Economic Development (the "Board") for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity (the "Certificate") authorizing the Issuer to acquire, own and lease a Project as hereinafter defined and to issue Industrial Development Revenue Bonds to finance said Project; and

3. The Board did on May 16, 1980, order and direct the approval of the aforesaid application and did issue its Certificate No. 415R to the Issuer, which Certificate authorized and empowered this Governing Body, acting for and on behalf of the Issuer, subject to the conditions therein set out, to adopt and publish a resolution, declaring its intention to issue Industrial Development Revenue Bonds of the Issuer as authorized by the Act in the principal amount not to exceed Four Million Dollars ($4,000,000) to provide funds to acquire said Project and thereafter to lease said Project to Alcan Aluminum Corporation (the "Company") for the purposes hereinafter set out; and

4. In order to promote industrial development and to provide additional gainful employment for its citizens, the Issuer should declare its intention to issue Industrial Development Revenue Bonds of the Issuer in the principal amount herein provided.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE GOVERNING BODY, ACTING FOR AND ON BEHALF OF THE ISSUER, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. That this Governing Body, acting for and on behalf of the Issuer, does hereby declare its intention to issue Industrial Development Revenue Bonds of the Issuer in the principal amount not to exceed Four Million Dollars ($4,000,000) (the "Bonds") to provide funds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring an enterprise, which expansion consists of improvements, machinery and equipment (all of which expansion constitutes the "Project") for the manufacturing, processing and assembling of electrical cable or other permissible products under the Act, and thereafter to lease the Project to the Company; provided that the Bonds shall be payable both as to principal and interest solely from the revenue to be derived from the Leasing of the Project, and neither the Bonds nor the interest thereon shall ever constitute an indebtedness of the Issuer, nor ever constitute or give rise to pecuniary liability of the Issuer or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers.

SECTION 2. That the issuance of the Bonds in the amount and for the purpose aforesaid shall be authorized at a meeting of the Governing Body to be held at their usual meeting place in Hancock County, Mississippi, at the hour of 9:00 o'clock A.M., on June 16, 1980, or at some meeting held subsequent thereto, unless on or before the aforesaid date and hour twenty percent (20 percent) of the qualified electors of the Issuer shall file a written protest against the issuance of the Bonds, in which event the Bonds shall not be issued unless authorized at an election on the question of the issuance thereof to be called and held as provided by law. If no such protest be filed, then the Bonds may be issued without an election on the question of the issuance thereof at any time within a period of two (2) years after the date hereinafore specified.

SECTION 3. That this resolution shall be published once a week for at least four consecutive weeks in the Sea Coast Echo, a newspaper published in Hancock County, Mississippi, and qualified under the provisions of Section 13-3-1 of the Mississippi Code of 1972. The first publication of this resolution shall be made not less than twenty-one (21) days prior to the date fixed in this resolution for the issuance of said Bonds and the last publication shall be made not more than seven (7) days prior to the date aforesaid.

SECTION 4. That the Clerk of this Governing Body is hereby directed to procure from the publishers of the aforesaid newspaper the customary proof of the publication of this resolution and to have the same before this Governing Body at their meeting to be held on the date and at the hour set forth in Section 2 of this resolution.

COST SHARE PROGRAM

Since 1974 when the Mississippi legislature passed the Forest Resource Development Act (FRDA) more than 145,000 acres of private and state-owned timberland has been improved using $3,268,822. of severance tax funds made possible by the Act. The FRDA is administered by the Mississippi Forestry Commission and provides up to 75 percent of the cost of various forest improvement practices to eligible landowners. An average of about 700-800 landowners have taken advantage of this important forestry cost-share program each year.

INCENTIVES PROGRAM

In addition to Mississippi's own forestry incentives program, known as the Forest Resource Development Program (FRDP), the State's private timberland owners have available to them a Federal Forestry Incentives Program (F.I.P.) for help in financing needed forest improvements. The Mississippi Forestry Commission provides technical advice and assistance for F.I.P. under an agreement with the U.S. Forest Service. Cost-sharing under the Federal Program is administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS). Since 1974 well over 100,000 acres of Mississippi's privately owned timberland has been made more productive using over three million dollars of federal forestry cost-share funds.

HARDWOOD

Warren and its neighboring counties of Yazoo and Claiborne show the highest potential of all state counties for future productivity of hardwood timber, according to the most recent timber survey for Mississippi. Hardwood growing stock in Warren totaled 329 million cubic feet, while Yazoo and Claiborne were next in line with 219 million and 198 million respectively.

NSTL recognizes Small Business Week

NSTL STATION, MISS.—The National Space Technology Laboratories near Bay St. Louis joined other NASA Centers and government agencies in recognizing Small Business Week this month, honoring the country's more than 13 million small businesses.

To focus attention on the vital role of small business in the nation's economy as an employer, as a producer and as an innovator, President Carter proclaimed the week of May 11 as Small Business Week, 1980.

More than 98 percent of the commercial establishments in this country are small business concerns. They employ almost two-thirds of the country's private sector labor force and in recent years have accounted for virtually all of the employment growth in the private sector.

At NSTL James E. Davis, the NASA Small Business specialist, indicates that approximately 82 cents of every NASA dollar is put to work in some form with the educational scientific and business community through the procurement process.

Here, the contributions of small business have been conspicuous and are reflected in the growth of NASA contracts with small and minority business.

During fiscal year 1975, NASA awarded contracts totaling $215,945,000 to small businesses and $16,167,000 to minority firms as compared to fiscal year 1979 small business awards of $323,648,000 and awards of $61,571,000 to minority businesses.

Extensive reliance upon the private sector for innovation, technology growth and operational support is expected to continue at NSTL during the decade of the 1980s and, correspondingly, NASA expects the FY 79 Pan American World Airways and NSTL awards of $5,723,285 to small businesses and $1,477,151 to minority firms to grow even larger.

Small and minority business firms interested in obtaining information on contracting opportunities at NSTL should contact James E. Davis, NASA Procurement and Contracts office, NSTL Station, MS 39529, or phone (601) 688-3600.

State Weather Projection

Rainfall in the state is predicted to total above the median from mid-May to mid-June, according to the Mississippi Weather Outlook distributed by the Mississippi Weather Outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

The state may receive four inches or more of rainfall, report agrometeorologists at the Mid-South Farm Weather Service in Stoneville who prepare the report.

Temperatures should range above normal near the coast and near normal in the rest of the state.

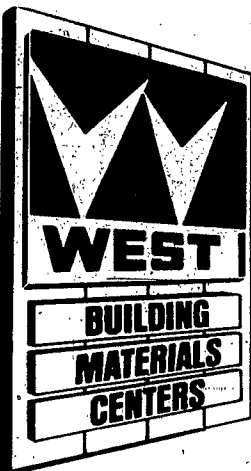

Planting of the remainder of the cotton, soybean and rice crops will have to be worked in around frequent showers, say the weather specialists.

Planting of cotton and rice may run late following the heavy rains of mid-May. Soils will be warm enough for fast germination and growth.

Although winds will diminish slightly, a combination of wind and rain will make it difficult to spray herbicides. Farmers should spray in early morning hours because of the probability of afternoon showers.

Rain and mild temperatures will be good for pasture and forage crop growth. Cattlemen may have trouble curing hay and may need to condition much of the crop to promote faster drying. Mild, damp weather will continue to plague the wheat crop and may cause the spread of current disease problems.

Poultrymen should watch for hot and humid weather. Ventilation systems will carry a larger load as maximum

McClain victor in ring rematch

Mike McClain of the Bay-Kiln-Waveland Boxing Club recorded a win in Mississippi City Saturday as he stopped Michael Lawson of the Moss Point Boxing Club 20 seconds into the second round of a scheduled three round bout.

Two weeks earlier McClain had defeated Don Dorsey from Marrero, La. in a rematch, McClain coming out the winner in that match in Moss Point.

"Lawson is two years older than Mike, but it was Mike's step-in left hand which had Lawson's mouth and nose bleeding," Head Coach John Whisenhunt said of Saturday's match.

Referee Fred Goltz stopped the fight and declared McClain the winner of the match. "Mike has won five of his past six matches, but records mean nothing as there are no such things as 'a favorite' when a boxer is involved in a major tournament," Whisenhunt said referring to the upcoming Junior Olympics.

"Our hopes and prayers will be with Mike as he represents Hancock County in the Junior Olympics in Shreveport, La. in the 70 pound weight class," he added.

In other action Saturday, Nicky Slade lost a match to Raymond White of the Gulfport Boxing Club in the heavyweight division.

"Going all the way toe-to-toe, Nicky bobbed and weaved and counter-punched very well," Whisenhunt said. "Nicky has the ability to slip punch and he is becoming a polished fighter," he continued.

"Slade's record as a heavyweight is two and two, and he has been fighting with the cream of the heavyweight crop," the head coach noted.

Babe Ruth League tells latest results

Babe Ruth League games were rained out last week and will be rescheduled at the end of the first round of play, according to a league spokesman.

In action Sunday, Alcan Cable defeated Coastal Insurance 16-5 at the end of 4.5 innings. The game was stopped under the 10 run rule.

David Lansden was the winning pitcher with relief from Michael Spuzeneau. Lansden pitched to 15 batters, fanning two, walking five, and allowing one hit.

Donnie Dwyer was the losing pitcher. Lansden was also top batter for Alcan, hitting twice at three times, along with Robert Whavers' two hits and Kenny Benigno's one hit.

Mike Ladner led Coastal Insurance with one hit at three attempts.

In the second game Sunday, Gus Aime pitched a no hitter for the American Legion but ended up the losing pitcher as the Seals won 2-1.

Scotty Adam started for the Seals, fanning the first six batters in the first two innings, but was relieved by Anthony Smith because Adam had pitched five innings on Tuesday.

Babe Ruth rules allow a pitcher to toss for only seven innings a week. American Legion batter Brock Godwin hit twice in three attempts, and Virgil Dahl hit one time in two trips to the plate.

striking out 10 and walking six.

Smith pitched to 19 sluggers, fanning four and walking two.

BOATING TOPICS

John boats have come a long way since their original development by early settlers in the Ozark Mountain region. According to the MerCruiser boating experts, early versions of john boats were quite narrow, had appreciable "rocker" in their bottoms, and sometimes reached a length of 28 feet.

VERSATILE JOHN BOATS

Of course, these john boats were made of wood, and were "powered" by paddles.

During the first quarter of the 20th century, as anglers from midwestern cities discovered Ozark sport fishing, john boats began to shrink in overall length.

Then in the boating boom that followed World War II, some boat manufacturers realized it would be simple to make john boats out of aluminum.

To hold up the weight of a motor in the stern and give better performance under power, they eliminated the rocker from the aft half of the hull bottom.

Today's john boats thus don't paddle or row as well, but they move along nicely under the steady push of smaller outboard motors.

Agriculture Today

by Ed Curran
U.S. Department of Agriculture

While it might be important for farmers to know that people are eating less beef and pork and more poultry and fish than they used to, it's, perhaps, more important for them to know why.

And, those reasons involve price, availability, convenience, and — let's face it — medical evidence.

During the past 10 years, retail beef prices have more than doubled, pork prices have gone up 115 percent. On the other hand, retail chicken prices have moved up only 67 percent — that's 20 percent below the general food price increase — and turkey prices have increased only 76 percent. That's made poultry something of a bargain.

Then, there is the matter of nutritional concerns of consumers. Many have begun eating less red meat in response to medical evidence that suggests there's a correlation between consumption of red meats and the increased risk of cardiovascular disease, obesity and cancer.

Moreover, the American Heart Association recommends meals of fish and poultry because they contain less saturated fat than red meat. To this end, it points out that a 3-ounce serving of beef or pork contains up to 80 grams of cholesterol. This, versus 40 to 55 grams in a serving of cod or flounder and 65 to 70 grams in light meat chicken.

Finally, there's the matter of convenience. Improvements in marketing and processing have encouraged increased use of seafood products. Ease of production has made it possible to include seafood in the diet more often. Especially in single-person and dual-career households.

Then, there is the matter of availability. Twice in the past decade, hog farmers have had to cut production to offset low prices brought on by periods of high production. Cattlemen are currently rebuilding their herds, thus, making less beef available.

By contrast, poultry production has edged up steadily and fish marketing and processing has improved. During 1972-78, establishments primarily selling chicken increased 56 percent. But, seafood outlets increased 7-fold during that same period.

Finally, there's the matter of convenience. Improvements in marketing and processing have encouraged increased use of seafood products. Ease of production has made it possible to include seafood in the diet more often. Especially in single-person and dual-career households.

By Jennifer Wood

"Grease" co-producer Allan Carr knew Olivia Newton-John was the girl to play Sandy in this musical recreation of the 50s (featured on Home Box Office this month). Recalls Carr, "I'd never seen her in person before, and I couldn't resist telling her that she really should be doing movies. She's just adorable and yet she has a very special sophistication about her too. I knew if we could just capture that on film, we'd have our Sandy." Little did Carr know... Olivia had done a movie — six years ago. "I'm really trying to forget it," says Olivia. "It opened and closed in about a week."

Referring to his character in "The In-Laws" (another HBO feature this month), Alan Arkin points out that making him a dentist was not essential to the plot. "There are no microfilms hidden in people's teeth or anything like that. It's just that dentists tend to be conservative, and this one is more conservative than most. And putting him at the wheel of a runaway taxi on the crowded streets of a Latin American backwater, being cheered on by a nutcase CIA agent, is unusual."

Gene Wilder says his role in "The Frisco Kid" (also on HBO this month), is the best one he's ever had. Maybe that's because he had the chance to custom tailor the screenplay to fit his very best comic abilities.

Levens retains family academy membership

Dr. J.B. Levens of Bay St. Louis completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership.

The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice in 1969.

The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

because of his advocacy of increased parental involvement in education, "but that's a small price to pay for a better educated and healthier child."

Some approaches parents might use in improving the diet include a yes and no list to cut down on temptation for the parents, who must serve as models for younger children, who learn quickly the benefits of good nutrition.

Younger children's diets are easier to control, while older children are away from home and their bad eating habits are more firmly entrenched.

In this area the U.S. Department of Agriculture is coming to the aid of parents with a ban on the sale of "junk food" in schools until after the last lunch period. The ban goes into effect July 1.

Almost 4,000 food additives contribute to malnourishment

EDITORS NOTE: This is the third of a series of four articles based on interviews with Dr. Reed R. Mottley, University of Southern Mississippi professor of reading in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction, within the school of Education and Psychology. Mottley has been chosen as a member of the national Nutrition and Learning Committee sponsored by the International Reading Association.

HATTIESBURG - As with alcohol, Dr. Mottley suggests the possibility that each person may have a different tolerance level to the 3,600 food additives the Food Protection Committee of the National Science Foundation estimates are in the consumer food supply.

In children susceptible to these compounds, learning and behavioral disturbances are among the most common reactions.

"To teachers, these behavioral disturbances translate into classroom discipline problems which may affect learning potential," said Reed Mottley, on an International Reading Association committee studying the link between nutrition and learning.

Although impulsiveness and aggressiveness may become apparent in kindergarten or nursery school, it is not until the first or second grades that such symptoms as a short attention span, a constant chatter and fighting may become more evident.

"While we are not asking parents to become doctors, some of the problems they might observe include: frequent temper tantrums, a low tolerance for failure, highly impatient, difficulty in sleeping and a normal or above average student who falls," Mottley said.

However he hastens to add our becoming an amateur physician will not allow us to come up with an accurate diagnosis. Therefore consult your doctor who can better determine the problem based on his expertise or research. Potential adverse health reactions or conditions that could be worsened through poor eating habits by children who already have them include: constipation, headaches, asthma and hoarseness.

Teachers who have been trained and schools with good nutrition programs are able to inform parents of problems they have noticed in the classroom.

Parents should be willing to take their child to a pediatrician, to discuss their child's diet with the doctor and to prepare a diet free of compounds the child is susceptible to.

Medical schools are increasing emphasis on prevention and this includes better educating doctors on nutrition, according to Mottley.

However he adds, "Many children seldom see a doctor and are parent-school dependant on orientation to good eating habits."

"About 50 percent of the children with hyperactivity-learning disabilities respond to a diet eliminating additives and sugars according to research," said the University of Southern Mississippi reading professor.

With an additive-free diet, fighting decreases, the attention span lengthens and the child becomes less aggressive and disturbing.

Later mental ability in the form of preception skills and problem solving ability improve as shown by studies.

The diet may result in an increase in the family grocery bill," said Mottley, who was selected by the committee

Beach party marks Billy Fryer's 5th

Billy Fryer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Fryer Jr. of Arabi, La., who is visiting his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Edue Depreo in Bay St. Louis, celebrated his fifth birthday Tuesday, May 13, with a beach party.

A Mickey Mouse theme was used for the occasion and games were played and prizes were won by Jennifer Lee and Trent Favre.

Others joining in the celebration were his brothers Drew and Dax; Richard, Rodney, Kelly and Amy Oliver, Jennifer Katen, Pete and Wendy Peterson, Scott and Patsy Rogers, Kris Minchew, Brent Kelly and Dwayne Welch.

"I wouldn't want to be elected president. I get blamed enough for things as it is."

Pass Middle School conducts field day

The Pass Christian Middle School recently held a Fifth and Sixth grade Field Day at the school. The playground was divided with teacher's homerooms represented by banners made by the class.

Homeroom representatives carried Olympic-type torches to the judge's table and led the Star-Spangled Banner before the events began.

Homerooms were given three points for each 1st place, two points for 2nd place, and one point for 3rd place. During the day, students participated in the football throw, kangaroo relay, three-legged race, water balloon pass, sack races, egg shuttle relay, tug-of-war, fireman's relay, and the wheelbarrow race.

A picnic lunch was held on the playground before the final events were conducted.

The day ended with Mrs. Antoine's homeroom winning the Field Day trophy.
